

Jennings al Financial Times: aumentare i salari

Il Segretario Generale di UNI GLOBAL UNION Philip Jennings scrive al Financial Times per sollecitare a livello globale ed in particolare in Europa, l'aumento dei salari per trainare la ripresa economica e ridurre le ineguaglianze.

Rispondendo alla notizia che la Bundesbank tedesca ha appoggiato le proposte sindacali per aumentare gli stipendi in Germania, Jennings ha chiesto alla Banca Centrale Europea di muoversi nella stessa direzione.

Di seguito la lettera/articolo pubblicata dal Financial Times.

FT.com
FINANCIAL TIMES

The whole world needs a pay rise

From Mr Philip Jennings.

Sir, With reference to your report "Bundesbank shifts stance to support pay rises" (July 22); the Bundesbank has joined a growing list of the great and the good calling for a pay rise for workers.

All these institutions and leaders from the Pope to President Obama, to the CBI and now the Bundesbank, recognise that if employees' pockets are empty they are not in a position to spend to pick up the economy. It is time for the Federal Reserve, the Bank of England and the European Central Bank to heed this message.

The world needs a pay rise if we want to see our way out of the shadow of the crisis and into the light of global growth. After all, the CEOs can take care of themselves, with their pay rises topping 15 per cent.

Philip Jennings,
General Secretary,
UNI Global Union,
Nyon, Switzerland